

Faith stories needed

Traditionally, Our Sunday Visitor publishes stories of why Catholic readers around the country converted – or reverted back – to the Faith. However, in light of the novel coronavirus pandemic, we would like to invite all readers to share their stories of how they have maintained their faith or have seen it grow during this difficult time. These stories will be published in the issue of Pentecost. All submissions are due on May 10. We ask that, if possible, all submissions to be sent to osvletters@osv.com (please put “Keeping the Faith” in the subject line) instead of mailing letters to our office.
